ABOUT THE INSTITUTE

The late Dr. Bhausaheb Varhade laid down the founding stones of Mahatma Jyotiba Fule Commerce, Science, and Vitthalrao Raut Arts College in 1993. This developing institution is dedicated to the growth and development of young minds from the rural region of Bhatkuli. The college offers Higher Secondary courses and Under-Graduate courses in the faculty of Arts, Science, and Commerce.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

We hope all are well and taking the necessary precautions to combat COVID-19.

We have organized an online e-Workshop specially for the students, faculties and the young generation thriving for entrepreneurship. The farmers who wish to move aside from traditional farming practices and trying to put effort into their bright future may also join the event. The contents covered in this workshop focus on Mushroom, Aromatic, and Medicinal Plant cultivation. It also provides opportunities for improving the sustainability of the farming culture.

In Mushroom cultivation, the byproducts of the farmland could be recycled and used. Mushroom cultivation can directly improve livelihoods through economic, nutritional, and medicinal contributions.

In India, CSIR-Central Institute of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants (CIMAP), Lucknow and ICAR- Directorate of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants, Anand are dedicated to agro-industrial collaboration for sustainable agriculture. The demand for medicinal and aromatic plants is currently increasing in both developed and developing countries for various applications. The farmers could take advantage of attractive subsidies being offered by both the central and the state governments for growing medicinal and aromatic plants.

The purpose of this program is to convert information into knowledge for boosting value-additive cultivation for sustainable growth and development.
